

STUDENT ASSOCIATE BENEFITS

Lead, Save, and Connect

Enjoy leadership opportunities as Task Force leader and conference session organizer, as well as vote for other leaders.

Participate in CORE Group Conferences, events, and sponsorships at discounted rates. Student members receive priority as volunteers at our Conferences and events, which includes free registration.

Network and connect online with Organizational Members and Associates.

Influence the direction of the rapidly evolving field of global community health.

Other Network Opportunities

Establish significant relationships with global health leaders and colleagues via conferences, events, and Working and Interest Group activities.

Enhance visibility via CORE Group communication channels, including mailing lists, newsletters, webinars, social media, and print materials.

Co-create tools, frameworks, training efforts, and standards.

Participate in a CORE Group Working Group, Task Force, Interest Group, or Special Initiative.

Hone skills in technical, management, presentation, and other arenas through trainings, events, conferences, and webinars.

Stay current on the best tools, resources, innovations, and trends.

What is the CORE Group?

What is the Community Health Network?

Enthusiasts describe CORE Group as a “marketplace of innovation,” “a crucible for what works,” “a wealth of ideas and action,” and “a trusted, neutral broker.” Through our Community Health Network, health and development professionals share ideas, identify gaps and promising innovations, and collaborate to create the next generation of practical tools, guidance and insight. Results are then thoroughly disseminated via our worldwide net of practitioners, policymakers, consultants, students, and other stakeholders.

What is a CORE Group Student Associate?

As we’ve grown, our Community Health Network has been enriched by participation of a wide range of stakeholders, including students, interns, and volunteers. New in 2016, Student Associate membership enables those roles to formally participate in CORE Group and enjoy benefits previously only available to members.
